

Problems and Challenges

Difference in Time Measurement Technique

Race Condition

Race conditions arise in software when an application depends on the sequence or timing of processes or threads for it to operate properly.

